I am currently in my final year of studying a Bachelor of Computer and Information Sciences in Application Development at Emeris Ruimsig – Johannesburg Campus.
I am excited about the challenges and knowledge that will be presented to me this year as I pursue a career as a software developer and, later on, a project manager.
I also have a passionate backup interest in Technical Support, in terms of building and maintaining devices used in our day-to-day. If becoming a software engineer doesn't work out, I would love being Technical Support to improve user experiences,
